Teen 1: Hey, Tom! Have you thought about what we should do for summer vacation?

Teen 2: Hi! Yeah, I'm thinking maybe we could go camping. What do you think?

Teen 1: Camping sounds fun, but I was also thinking about going to the beach.

Teen 2: Oh, going to the beach sounds awesome! We could swim and build sandcastles.

Teen 1: Yeah, that does sound fun. But I love hiking in the mountains, too.

Teen 2: Hiking could be cool! We'd see amazing views and maybe even spot some wildlife.

Teen 1: Exactly! So, what do you think? Beach, mountains, or camping?

Teen 2: Hmm, it's a tough choice. Let's make a list of pros and cons for each option!

Teen 1: Alright, let's list the pros and cons. For the beach, we have swimming and sandcastles, but it might be crowded. For camping, we have nature and campfires, but we could get bugs. And for hiking, we have amazing views and wildlife, but it might be tiring.

Teen 2: Yeah, that's true. Hmm, after thinking about it, I think I'd like to go camping. It sounds adventurous, and we can bond around the campfire!

Teen 1: Camping it is! I'm excited already. Let's start planning our camping trip!

In the holiday photo, we're standing on a sandy beach with crystal-clear water stretching to the horizon behind us. The sun is setting. We're laughing. Facing mum, I'm hugging her and my little brother is hugging dad.

Student: Excuse me, Miss Johnson?

Teacher: Yes, Sarah? What is it?

Student: I was wondering if I could explore the area a bit. It looks so fascinating!

Teacher: Well, Sarah, the area here is quite dense mysterious and we need to stick together for safety. How about you explore with a buddy and stay within sight of the group?

Student: Of course, Miss Johnson! Thank you so much!

Boy 1: Hey, did you see that move?

Boy 2: Yeah, it was awesome! How did you come up with that?

Boy 1: I've been practicing it for ages. It finally paid off!

Boy 2: Well, it definitely caught everyone by surprise. They didn't see it coming at all!

Boy 1: Haha, yeah! It was epic!

Boy 1: Hey, Jake, have you finished creating the Kahoot for English class?

Boy 2: Almost done! I've got questions on verbs, adjectives, and idioms.

Boy 1: Nice! Did you include that tricky word from last week's lesson?

Boy 2: Yup, it's in there! And I added some new words too.

Boy 1: Sweet! Can't wait to see everyone's scores. This Kahoot is going to be fun!

Hey kids! Welcome to the pool/beach/lake! I'm here to help keep you safe while you have fun in the water. Remember, safety is super important, so let's talk about some simple rules to follow.

First, always swim where you see me or another lifeguard. We're here to watch over you and make sure everything's okay.

Second, never swim alone. It's always better to have a buddy with you. That way, you can look out for each other.

Third, if you're not a strong swimmer, wear a life jacket. It's like a super cool floaty that keeps you safe in the water.

Fourth, stay where you can touch the bottom of the pool or the ground of the lake. Don't go too far where it's too deep.

Fifth, listen to any signs or warnings around the water. They're there to help keep you safe.

Sixth, it's important not to run around the pool area or dive into shallow water. We want to avoid accidents.

Seventh, if you need help or see someone in trouble, don't hesitate to call for me or another grown-up nearby. We're here to help!

Eighth, remember to drink water and take breaks from the sun. We want you to stay hydrated and protected from the sun's rays.

And finally, it's a good idea to learn some basic swimming and water safety skills. It's like having a superpower that keeps you safe in the water.

So, let's have a blast in the water while staying safe and having fun! If you have any questions or need help, just let me know. Enjoy your time in the water!

Kid 1. I went to the beach with my family. We built sandcastles and splashed in the waves all day. It was so much fun!

Kid 2. My grandparents took me to the zoo. I saw lions, monkeys, and even fed giraffes! It was the best day ever.

Kid 3. We went camping in the forest. At night, we roasted marshmallows over a campfire and told scary stories. I felt like a brave adventurer!

Kid 4. I visited my cousin's farm. I fed the chickens, rode a pony, and even milked a cow! It was amazing to be around so many animals.
